

Shock-Absorbing Lanyards

■ Meet ANSI standards

Force2—Vectran energy absorption system provides efficient shock absorption and reduces force on the worker if a fall occurs. Feature abrasion-resistant webbing and self-locking snap hooks for harness connection.

ShockWave2—Expand and contract with user's movements to provide optimum mobility and minimize tripping or entanglements.

Integrated-rescue lanyards have integrated rings that provide accessible connection points to retrieve a fallen worker.

Positioning and Restraint Lanyards

■ Meet ANSI standards

Attach to D-rings connected to the hips of a safety harness or body belt. Ensure workers remain properly positioned, allow free use of both hands for extended periods, and restrict how far the wearer can travel to minimize potential fall hazards.

Steel lanyards have heavy-duty chain link construction.

Kevlar lanyard 36MF82 provides arc flash protection; 36MF84 is for welding applications.
